

ONE of the most brilliant events of the spring season was the wedding of Miss Marjorie Freeth and Mr. Ralph E. Clark which took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Shingle on Wednesday evening.

The Shingle home was a bower of fragrant flowers and graceful ferns. In the little alcove where the marriage ceremony was read by Father Valentine of the Catholic church quantities of ferns and palms were banded, while standing like sentinels were two tall bronze vases filled with waxy white lilies.

Mrs. Clark was the first of the season's brides to wear the new short wedding gown, and she was a picture of girlish loveliness in her shimmering white satin with the shadow lace train falling low beneath the hem of the costume. Her veil of soft white tulle was caught with orange blossoms and was draped to the end of the train. Pearl ornaments enriched the costume with charming simplicity. The bride carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas, gardenias and orchids, which she later threw to a group of waiting guests. She entered the room leaning on the arm of Mr. J. N. S. Williams, who gave her into the keeping of the bridegroom.

Mrs. William M. Campbell, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a lovely costume of pink tulle, enriched with folds of gold lace. The bridesmaids, Miss Pauline Schaefer and Miss Ruth Soper, were charming in old-fashioned frocks of green satin with fluffy overskirts of pink cloth. These over dresses were looped and caught with pink rosebuds. Little Muriel Campbell and Melvia Shingle were the flower girls and wearing dainty white organdy frocks they carried baskets of tiny pink rosebuds.

Mr. Clark was supported by Mr. Robert Purvis as best man, and Mr. George Ahlborn and Mr. Bert Clark were the ushers.

After the wedding a reception was held and the young bride and groom were showered with hundreds of happy wishes for the future. As Mrs. Freeth bent to kiss her daughter after the ceremony the Hawaiian quinet club started the catchy melody "Honi Kama Wikipiki" and the tears that had come to the eyes of the guests were quickly banished.

The supper tables where the guests were seated were decorated with little motif bouquets of old-fashioned flowers.

At the bride's table, pink, white and green prevailed in the colors. At one end stood a silver vase of pink gladiolas and at the other a vase of American Beauty roses, while on the table cover was scattered violets and sweet peas. In the center was the bride's cake, and above draped from the chandelier were streamers of delicately shaded tulle. Among the invited guests were Queen Liliuokalani, Prince and Princess Kahanalana, Miss Margaret Peacock, Colonel Sam Parker, Ernest Padmore, Miss Anne Pratt, Miss Jane Parke, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Peck, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Raphael, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Rawlins, Miss G. Richard, Judge and Mrs. A. G. Robertson, Miss S. S. Robertson, Mrs. S. S. Launching Party Monday Evening.
A pleasant affair of this week was the moonlight launching party at which a few of the officers of the U. S. S. Maryland entertained on Monday evening. After spending several hours about the harbor the guests were taken aboard the cruiser, where supper was served. The guests included Miss Sally Brown, Miss Josephine McCormack, Miss Peggy Center, Miss Charlotte Barth, Miss Betty Chase, Ensign Brown, Ensign Thomas, Ensign Thomas M. Tipton, Ensign William H. O'Brien and Lieut. E. W. Vincent.

Col. and Mrs. Charles Bromwell Entertain.
One of the very charming affairs of this week was the dinner at which Col. and Mrs. Charles Bromwell entertained on Tuesday evening at their home in Manoa valley. A dainty arrangement of sweet peas, violets and maidenhair ferns ornamented the center of the table, and dainty hand-painted cards marked the place of each of the 24 guests. During the dinner hour and evening Miller's quinet rendered plaintive Hawaiian melodies, among these present were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. R. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Templeton Crocker, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Castle, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dillingham, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dillingham, Col. and Mrs. Frederick P. Reynolds, Miss Nora Swamy, Miss Marion Newhall, Miss Judge, Mrs. Herman Fecke, Maj. Arthur S. Conklin, Mr. Richard Ivers, Col. B. F. Cheatham, Mr. Scott of San Francisco, Maj. Matthew De Laney and Col. and Mrs. Charles Bromwell.

Mrs. Alexander Garceau Complimented.
Mrs. Alexander Garceau, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Eleanor Hyde-Smith, for some weeks, was guest of honor at an attractive luncheon on Monday at which Mrs. Herbert Dowsett was hostess at her home at Pearl City. Dainty flowers and maidenhair ferns ornamented the table, which was laid for six, including Mrs. Alexander Garceau, Mrs. Charles Bromwell, Mrs. Eleanor Hyde-Smith, Mrs. Walter Dillingham, Mrs. Herman Fecke and the hostess. Mrs. Garceau left for her home in California in the Mongolia Wednesday and this was one of the many delightful entertainments given prior to her departure.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Roth Return to Honolulu.
The Matschka, arriving in Honolulu this week, brought among its passengers Mr. and Mrs. Will Roth, who will spend several weeks in the islands visiting friends and relatives. Mrs. Roth, who was formerly Miss Lurline Matson, has hosts of friends in Honolulu who have planned numerous entertainments in her honor. Among those who will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Roth are Mrs. C. B. High and Mrs. Frank Thompson, sisters of Mr. Roth, Miss Wilhelmina Tenney, Mrs. Harold Castle and many others.

Mrs. William H. Carter Entertains.
A very delightful party of this week was the dinner at which Mrs. William H. Carter was hostess on Thursday evening. An attractive arrangement of flowers and ferns ornamented the table, where covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dillingham, Mr. and Mrs. George Rodick, Col. and Mrs. Charles Bromwell, Col. and Mrs. B. F. Cheatham, Naval Constructor and Mrs. J. A. Furer, Maj. H. O. Williams, Capt. Sumner E. W. Kittelle and Maj-gen. and Mrs. William H. Carter.

Operetta to be Given at Kawaiahao.
What promises to be one of the most enjoyable events of the commencement season is the presentation of the operetta "Golden Sickle" which is to be staged out of doors at Kawaiahao Seminary next Saturday afternoon, June 5. The receipts from the play go toward the raising of the Kawaiahao semi-centennial endowment fund, which was begun at the Kawaiahao pageant last November.

The play which is largely musical, will include in its cast over one hundred voices, with piano, violin and cello accompaniment. It deals with fairyland and fairies, queens and witches, birds, bees and flowers. Fancy costumes have been secured for all these parts. The plot is simple but clever. Elsa and her six little companions, while searching for a lost ball, fall into the hands of Elfrida, a witch, and are put immediately under her baneful power. Their capture also causes Queen Hildegard to lose her throne. In her trouble the sad queen appeals to the flowers for help. They apply to Mother Witch Hazel for help and learn that Elfrida's power as a witch will end as soon as the hedge to her garden is cut down. There is but one sickle strong enough to cut down the hedge, and this is the "Golden Sickle" of Fairyland. The flowers hasten to give the sickle to the queen that she may attain skill in using it. Raymond, the hero, here comes into the story, bringing words of courage to the queen. The hedge is then cut down, the children are freed and amid the general rejoicing which follows, Hildegard is crowned once again, and the witch is banished.

The words of "Golden Sickle" were composed by Margaret E. Lacy. The music is the work of Eduardo Marzo. Both words and music are dainty and fascinating as the poetry of fairyland should be. Add to the very charm of the piece the soft harmony of girls' voices, the cool green of tropic trees, the quiet of evening, and the rugged beauty of the Manoa mountainsides and you have already the "home of Elfrida" blooming.

The admission to "Golden Sickle" will be 50 cents for grownups and 25 cents for children. Tickets may be procured this week at the Promotion Committee rooms or bought at the gate on Saturday.

Mrs. Reilly's Swimming Party.
Mrs. J. B. Reilly of Waikiki gave a moonlight swimming party on Thursday evening for Miss Sterritt and Miss Maynard of the girls' industrial school, who leave for the East next week for a well-earned and much-needed vacation. Among those invited to meet them were Mr. and Mrs. Radway, Mr. and Mrs. Kerr, Miss Barrett and Capt. Reilly. After the swim, hot and cold refreshments were served.

Each lady present received as a souvenir a volume of the pocket edition of "Washington Irving's Works."

Parsons-Batty Nuptials.
Announcements were received in the mail yesterday of the marriage of Miss Sinclair Batty and Mr. John Randolph Parsons in Oakland on May 18. Miss Parsons is the daughter of Judge Charles F. Parsons of Hilo and both he and Mrs. Parsons are well known in Honolulu. Mrs. Parsons is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Sinclair Wise, who visited in Honolulu and in Hilo some years ago.

The wedding is the culmination of a pretty romance begun when the young couple were in school in Hilo. Though they were separated a number of years while Mrs. Parsons was studying languages in Europe the young people corresponded regularly, and none of their friends were surprised to learn of their marriage.

A Moonlight Hay Ride.
One of the jolly affairs of this week was the supper and hayride at which Mr. George Casper was the genial host. The young folks, after spending some time in the surf at the beach, were served a delicious supper at the Outrigger Club and later in the evening rode to the Pali in a motor truck filled with hay. Attractive Japanese cards marked the place of each guest and favors for the young ladies were corsage bouquets of white carnations. Those present were Miss Mildred Bromwell, Miss Miriam Stacker, Miss Ruth Stacker, Miss Beth Woods, Miss Dorothy Guild, Miss Margaret Scudder, Miss Sybil Carter, Miss Clemence Gifford, John O'Dowda, Sam Stacker, Frank Winter, John Gifford, Sam Carter, Fred Carter, Arthur Brown and George Casper.

A Swimming Party.
This week many of the delightful entertainments have been at the beach where hostesses have entertained at moonlight bathing parties. One of the most charming of these affairs was that at which Miss Sally Brown entertained at the Moana hotel on Thursday evening. After a dip in the warm Pacific the guests were served a delicious supper. Among those present were Miss Josephine McCormack, Miss Peggy Center, Miss Betty Case, Miss Henrietta Schwartz, Ensign E. W. Broadbent, Ensign E. O. Thomas, Ensign B. O. Willis, Lieut. Wallace Philtoon, Ensign Charles H. Morris and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Templeton Crocker Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Templeton Crocker of San Francisco entertained at an elaborately appointed dinner on Wednesday evening before the dance at Mr. and Mrs. Harold Castle's at which they were the complimented guests. This is the first of entertainments at which they have been hosts in Honolulu, the girlhood home of Mrs. Crocker, who before her marriage was Miss Helene Irwin. The table was most attractively decorated with American beauty roses and covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dillingham, Col. and Mrs. Charles Bromwell, Mr. and Mrs. George Potter, Miss Marion Newhall, Mr. Scott, Mr. Richard Ivers and Mr. Harry Macfarlane.

For Miss Octavia Johnson.

Miss Octavia Johnson was the complimented guest at a delightfully informal dance last evening given by Albert and LeRoy Bush. The Bush residence on Kewalo street is often the scene of most enjoyable affairs and the one last night upheld the reputation. Miss Octavia Johnson, the incentive, is the charming daughter of Capt. Peter Johnson of the Wilhelmina and for the past week has been the house-guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. Fred Bush. The popular girl arrived in Honolulu some three weeks ago on the Wilhelmina and will remain until her father's ship again returns to the mainland, which will be June 15. During her short sojourn, Miss Johnson has been entertained extensively by the younger set.

The house last night was decorated with a mass of Bermuda lilies and maidenhair fern. The lawn at the back of the house was lighted with Japanese lanterns hung in the algeria trees and it was here that the guests sauntered between dances to enjoy the cool breeze. A buffet supper and punch were served here under the great trees. Some among the invited guests were Miss Octavia Johnson, the honor-guest; Miss Dorothy Walker, Miss Florence White, Miss Mildred Chapin, Miss Gladys Halstead, Miss Ruth Farrington, Miss Charlotte Blake, Miss Helen Church, Miss Mary Smith, Miss Florence Davis, Miss Ruth Stacker, Miss Electa Williams, Miss Ynez Gibson, Miss Clemence Gifford, Miss Rachel Woods, Miss Ima Woods, Miss Sybil Carter, Miss Louise Giffin, Miss Cleo Case, Miss Lillian McChesney, Miss Mildred Bromwell, Miss Margaret Hawk, Miss Margaret Bland, Miss Dorothy Hooge, Miss Mae Walker, Campbell Crozier, Elmer Crozier, Ernest Mott-Smith, Stanley Mott-Smith, George Lindley, George Bromley, Fred Smith, John Gifford, Billy Noble, Jere Carter, Sam Carter, Frank Winter, Arthur Brown, Parker Woods, Franklin Richardson, Roy Grahame, Stafford Austin, Gordon Brown, Henry White, Lorrin Thurston, Johnnie O'Dowda, Kenneth Emory, David Withington, Shirley Bush and the hosts.

House Party at Niu.

One of the many charming parties at which Miss Elizabeth Landon was hostess before her departure for the mainland was the house-party at Niu last week-end. Two delightful days were spent riding horseback, swimming and fishing and Monday morning the guests motored back to town. The young folks were chaperoned by Miss Sarah Merrill and Mrs. Ella Rodman Ayres. Others of Miss Landon's guests were Miss Betty Case, Miss Lila McDonald, Miss Peggy Center, Miss Sally Brown, Miss Nora Swamy, Miss Josephine McCormack, Miss Ruth Morrison, Lieut. C. W. Jenkins, Lieut. E. L. Kelley, Ensign B. O. Thomas, Ensign T. Tipton, Messrs. Bert Clark, Jack Horner, Reginald Bloomfield Brown, Francis Eames.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Hedemann's Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Hedemann entertained delightfully at a dinner party on Friday evening for a few of their friends. The beautiful Hedemann residence in Nuuanu valley has been the scene of much gaiety this season, many elaborate dinner-parties and musicals, having been given there. The long table was artistically decorated with pink sweet peas and maidenhair fern, arranged the length of the table at which covers were laid for Gen. and Mrs. William Henry Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Robbins B. Anderson, Judge and Mrs. Sidney Ballou, Col. and Mrs. C. Charles Bromwell, Col. and Mrs. J. B. McDonald and the host and hostess.

Mrs. Alexander Pratt's Party.

One of the pretty social affairs of the week was an enjoyable party given by Mrs. Alexander Pratt at her residence on Kapiolani street last Wednesday evening, at which over a half hundred guests were present. A number eliminated the hill climbing by using their machines, but those who came trudging up the incline were fully rewarded with iced punch and other cooling drinks that were passed about during the evening.

A dozen tables of what were soon in action, and the evening went quickly. At the conclusion of the card confetti, ice cream and cake were served.

Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Crabbe, Mr. and Mrs. J. Crockett, Mrs. Solomon, Mrs. C. W. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Riley, Mr. and Mrs. F. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wellbourne, Mrs. L. Mackie, Miss S. Harrison, Miss E. Harrison, Mrs. Hall, Miss Hall, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins, Mrs. Oram, Mrs. E. M. Taylor, Mrs. Williamson, Miss Macaulay, Miss Omsed, Mrs. T. Smith, Mrs. Auerbach, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. Cottrell, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Boyd, Dr. and Mrs. Daniel, Mrs. Marcellino, Mrs. Black, Mrs. Porter, Mrs. McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Reedy, Mrs. Laing, Mrs. Dowling, Mr. Pringle, Mrs. E. Strader, Mr.

and Mrs. A. Pratt and Miss G. Pratt Chillingworth-Kincaid.

At the pretty home of Mrs. F. Hone in Manoa valley on Tuesday, the 1st of June, the wedding of Miss Elsie Kincaid and Mr. Sam Chillingworth, Jr., will be solemnized. The Rev. Father Stephen will perform the ceremony. The engagement came as a surprise to the many friends of the young couple when it was announced last October. Though the wedding will be a very quiet one a host of the betrothed couple's friends will be present.

College of Hawaii Commencement Dinner.

The University Club was the scene of a merry party last night when the students at the College of Hawaii held their annual banquet. The tables at which the graduates and their friends were seated were prettily decorated with white flowers and attractive green vines, white and green being the colors of the College.

During the dinner hour there were songs and toasts and Governor Fishland made a most interesting address to those who have finished their college work this year. At the close of the fun, the guests rose and sang the college anthem.

Dinner-Dance at the University Club.

The regular dinner-dance will take place at the University Club tonight. There have been several parties made up for the affair, among them being that of Lieut. G. W. Haines and Mr. C. W. C. Deering.

Mrs. Sam Peck Entertains.

Entertaining a number of her friends yesterday afternoon Mrs. Sam Peck was hostess at an informal bridge party at her home in Kaimuki.

Oriental Cream

OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

An Indispensable and Necessary Article for Particular Women who Desire to Retain a Youthful Appearance.

Every woman owes it to herself and loved ones to retain the charm of youth nature has bestowed upon her. For over half a century this article has been used by actresses, singers and women of fashion. It renders the skin like the softness of velvet, leaving it clear and pearly white and is highly desirable when preparing for daily or evening attire. As it is a liquid and non-greasy preparation, it remains unnoticed. When attending dances, balls or other entertainments, it prevents a greasy appearance of the complexion caused by the skin becoming heated.

Gouraud's Oriental Cream cures skin diseases and relieves sunburn. Removes Tan, Pimples, Blackheads, Moth Patches, Rash, Freckles and Vulgar Redness.

For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

Yellow and Muddy skin, giving a delicate and refined complexion which every woman desires.
